WARM WELCOME FOR ROOSEVELT

Yale College Formally Receives Her Returning Sons and Friends.

ALMA MATER HAPPY

An Informal Reception This Afternoon in Honor of the President.

NOTED MEN PRESENT

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—The bicentennial of Yale college is now in full blast. The morning's exercise consisted of an address in the chapel. This afternoon there will be a football game between Yale and Bates. President Roosevelt arrived early this morning. The town delegation of the council waited on him shortly after his arrival and tendered him the freedom of the town. It is planned to have an informal reception this afternoon the president being guarded from cranks by three secret service men and a corps of local deputy sheriffs.

ARE WELCOMED BY YALE

Delegates From Many Countries Take Part in the Bicentennial. New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—Yale university has extended formal welcome to many of her returning sons and to the hundreds of distinguished guests from other institutions of learning in this country and across the seas, who are here to attend the celebration of her bicentennial. The welcome was voiced officially in Battell chapel in the afternoon by President Arthur Twining Hadley of the university, and responses to the greeting were given in behalf of the city, state and nation and of the universities of Europe.

Delegates from thirty foreign universities and societies and from 125 American institutions were represented in the audience, which filled every part of the gray stone chapel.

Nearly all the delegates were gowned in the academic costumes distinctive of their degree or of their university. Scarlet-trimmed "gowns" and "hoods" of doctors of divinity were mingled with the purple of the learned representatives of the law, the blue of the doctors of philosophy, the green of the medical departments, the white of the masters of arts and letters, the orange of science and the brown of fine arts. Everywhere was a variety of color, which, combined with the universal blue of the Yale decorations, gave a picturesque air of festivity to the dignified ceremonial.

Aside from the exercises of welcome the day's programme included addresses descriptive of the advance of the past two centuries in various departments of learning.

The first of these addresses was made by Thomas Thacher, M. A., of the New York bar, who discussed "Yale in Relation to Law." Mr. Thacher spoke in Battell chapel at 10:30, after he had been formally presented to the delegates by Simeon E. Baldwin, LL.D., associate Justice of the Connecticut supreme court, and professor of constitutional law at Yale.

The hymn composed by the Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon, a former fellow of Yale, and entitled "O, God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand," was rendered with fine effect by a large chorus.

ACTIVE REBELLION IS ON IN SAMAR

Washington, Oct. 22.—The following cablegram was received by the navy department today from Rear Admiral Rogers, commanding the southern squadron in the Philippines, "Cavite: An active insurrection in Samar. The New York leaves today for Calabagan with three hundred marines to report at Bassey and Balanga to co-operate with the army. Nearly all of the naval force is concentrated on the Samar patrol. The services of the Aethusa and Zafiro, two colliers, were needed and are being utilized.

WEDDING BELLS

Burke-Malone Wedding. St. Mary's church was the scene of a pretty and joyous wedding this morning at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Margaret Burke and William Malone stood before the marriage altar and exchanged the solemn vows which made them man and wife. The sanction of the church was bestowed by Rev. Father W. A. Goebel, who solemnized the impressive ceremony in the presence of the assembled relatives and friends of the high contracting parties. Both bride and groom are well known young people of this city and have a host of friends who will wish them all possible joy and happiness in their journey through life.

Mrs. Ward Leavering, of Minnesota, is visiting friends in this city. Mr. Taylor, representing the Scribner Publishing Company, and Mr. Puleifer, of the D. C. Heath & Company, spent yesterday inspecting the High school.

MAY RESCUE MISS STONE.

The Russian Government's Efforts in Her Behalf.

Washington, Oct. 22.—There has been no report since Saturday at the State Department from Turkey or Bulgaria touching Miss Stone's case. The officials, however, are by no means discouraged, and are still confident that they will succeed in saving her life, but whether by diplomacy or by force is not clear. It is gathered that the friendship of the Russian government has much to do with the confidence of the officials here. That government has responded in the most cordial spirit to the appeal of the State Department, which, unable itself from geographical and political reasons to exert pressure upon the government of Bulgaria, has been pleased to avail itself of the powerful influence of Russia on that government. The Turkish government has for its part responded in the same spirit to the appeal of the United States and altogether the two governments, Turkish and Bulgarian, probably have been put to a degree of expense equal to the amount of the ransom demanded by Miss Stone's captors in the military operations they have already directed in her interests.

LINE ENTERS CITY AT SPRING BROOK

Rapid Progress Being Made in the Construction of the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Road.

R. W. Hill of Beloit was in the city today attending to some matters connected with the right of way of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric line. The promoters of the line have decided that the road will enter the city at the Jackson street bridge by the way of McKey boulevard in Spring Brook. The road runs south down McKey boulevard to George Place, near the Chouteau-Hollister factory and runs southwest to the Chicago and Northwestern tracks. There it passes under the tracks and then runs southeast across the back of the Wilcox and Altman farms and strikes the Beloit road about a mile south of where the Northwestern crosses the road. This does away with two dangerous grade crossings, and leaves only one on McKey boulevard where the line crosses the Janesville & Southeastern.

The grading of the line is being rushed along as fast as possible. Between Beloit and Rockford, fifteen miles of the grading is completed, only two small sections still being left unfinished. Between Beloit and Janesville one section from Beloit up to the bend in the river about four miles above Beloit is completed.

One crew is at work on a section below Happy Hollow and another was put to work this morning on the Brown farm about four miles south of the city. So far over sixty thousand yards of dirt has been moved.

On the section between Beloit and Rockford the trestle bridges are all built, the ties are distributed all the way ready for the rails and most of the trolley poles are in place. It is only a question of a short time before this section of the road is completed.

At Beloit the foundation for the power house is completed and the walls partly up. The building will be all inclosed before weather sets in and the machinery will be ready to start up when spring opens up. Mr. Hill thinks there is no question but that the line will be ready to start up before the first of May.

MR. MORGAN'S TRAIN ON THE WAY EAST

Extraordinary Precautions Taken by the Great Northern to Avoid Accident to the Special.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 22.—J. Pierpont Morgan and his party left here late this afternoon on their special train for the east. The day was spent in visiting numerous points of interest about the city, and inspecting a number of prominent industries.

The Great Northern management is taking extraordinary precautions to prevent any accident happening to Mr. Morgan's special during its trip from Seattle to St. Paul. Every inch of the 1,800 miles of track will be given personal inspection by officials of the road before the train passes, and in addition to this the train is accompanied by special guards.

Mr. Morgan is expected to meet J. H. Hill at St. Paul, where it is understood an important conference will be held.

FOR M'KINLEY MEMORIAL FUND; CANVASS WILL COVER THE STATE

Henry C. Payne Announces His Plans—Sub Committees in Each County—Many Offers of Help Received.

Henry C. Payne, the representative of Wisconsin on the board of trustees appointed by President Roosevelt to carry out the plans of the McKinley Monument association, reports that the movement to collect funds in Wisconsin for the proposed national memorial is progressing rapidly. Sub committees are being selected to push the work in the various counties and offers of assistance are being received daily from all parts of the commonwealth.

Letters will be sent out in a few days asking the co-operation of all the bankers and editors of Wisconsin in circulating subscription blanks and in putting the matter before the public. By these and other means it is hoped that a handsome sum may be raised in the state for a monument fund.

"Under the authority of the general association sub-committees are being appointed to cover each county in the state, to act as auxiliary committees in the work of gathering offerings toward the building of a fitting memorial to President McKinley," said Mr. Payne yesterday. "These committees will consist of from three to fifteen members for each county. The members will be able and prominent men in whom the people have confidence. These committees of which there will be nearly

NEW ELECTRIC LINE TO LAKE GENEVA

Milwaukeeans and Others Apply for a Franchise.—The Road is Scheduled to Carry Freight.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 22.—If an electric railroad line is not built to connect Milwaukee and Lake Geneva and numerous towns between the terminals named it will not be because there is a lack of organized effort in that direction. There are so many schemes of the kind that it is next to impossible to keep track of them. At least a half dozen have been mentioned in a year. There have been a number of surveys for surface lines, and one franchise for an elevated system in this city to connect with a proposed surface line has been granted.

Nevertheless, a number of well known citizens of Milwaukee, Waterford, Lake Geneva, Rochester, Burlington, Tess Corners, and Hales Corners are determined to try their hand at it, and today made application for a franchise. The promoters of the line have organized under the name of the Milwaukee-Western Consolidated Electric Railway company, and articles of incorporation will be filed with the Secretary of State at Madison in a day or two.

The line is to be a freight and passenger line, as the franchise provides that it shall be for the purpose of "carrying passengers and for commercial purposes." It is said that the company has secured every foot of the right of way from the city limits of Milwaukee to Lake Geneva, and that operations on the line will be commenced as soon as the franchise is granted in this city.

The new line will go to Hales Corners, Tess Corners, Muskego, Waterford, Rochester, Burlington, Lyons and Lake Geneva. It will be of standard gauge and will be operated by electricity. The franchise binds the company to begin operations within four months of the acceptance of the franchise and to complete the line within the city within one year from the same date. Surveyors are at work now on the right of way.

ROOSEVELT TAKES A RADICAL STEP

Engaged to Dine with Booker T. Washington Tomorrow at New Haven, Fully Realizing His Course.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—Definite announcement was made today that not only will President Roosevelt again sit at the same table with Booker T. Washington tomorrow evening at a banquet tendered them by President Hadley of Yale, but that Miss Alice Roosevelt, the president's eldest daughter, will also sit at the table near Mr. Washington, the colored editor.

Miss Roosevelt will meet her father in Farmington today. She left Boston last night for Farmington. She will come here with her father on Wednesday and be the guest of President Hadley. Miss Roosevelt has accepted the invitation to dine here with Mr. Washington, with a full realization of the importance of the step.

Miss Roosevelt makes her debut into society in the national capital, at the White House next month, and knows well the influence of southern women, who revolt at the idea of a colored guest at the table on terms of social equality in the society of Washington.

LOOT RETURNED TO THE BANK

Robbers Make Terms with Directors of the Lowell Failure.

EXPECT TO ESCAPE

By Restitution of $800,000, They Will Not Need to Fear the Law.

ONLY $115,000 IS SPENT

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 22.—In consideration of the return of securities worth $800,000 to the Merchants' National Bank of this city, Lewis H. Swift, the bookkeeper, and Albert G. Smith, the teller, are said to have been promised immunity from punishment for an alleged defalcation of $115,000. The securities were returned as mysteriously as they disappeared last Thursday, when the two bank employees left, but the bank officials deny that any promise was made to the men regarding punishment.

As soon as the securities were safe in the bank's vault the directors announced that "everything was satisfactory, as the defalcation of the two men was only $115,000."

The papers, notes, bonds and certificates were delivered to the bank officials at the bank at 4 o'clock a.m. by Charles W. Bartlett of Boston and John C. Burke of Lowell, counsel for the missing bank employees. They carried the securities into the building in handbags.

Allow Bank to Reopen.

At once there was a marked change in the situation. Bank Examiner Ewer, who was at the bank at the time, assured the directors that the controller would permit the institution to open for business as usual. Admitting a defalcation of $115,000, there was still a cash surplus of $179,600. Smith and Swift are still at large, and their whereabouts is not known to the directors. One of their counsel says they are not near Lowell. Each is unquestionably provided with a substantial part of the $115,000 deficit in the bank's funds. They are known to have retained a part of the last bundle of money taken from the vault on Thursday.

People fought their way through the hosts of minutiae and split them out as they fought.

The pests flew into the eyes of man and beast, inflicting annoyance upon both. Even the schoolboys, robust little fellows who delight in such customers, were content to stay indoors and watch the invaders from a safe retreat behind the windows. Women came through the plague of insects with hands beating the atmosphere like the arms of a windmill. Horses stopped stock still and kept their heads in vigorous vibration to prevent the little pests from getting into their eyes and nostrils.

Ministers began to talk of the plague of Egypt which led Moses to organize his expedition for a trip through the wilderness. Scientists were puzzled, and physicians discussed the prolixity of bacteria as they plied through the swarms.

Reports from cities and towns situated on the lake shore show that Milwaukee was not the only place that received a visitation; it was general along the west shore of Lake Michigan. This would indicate that they were blown in from the lake, but where they originated no one seems to have had the least idea. Two years ago there was a similar visitation. In other years there have been visitations of what is known as lake flies, but they are much larger and not nearly so numerous.

LAYING PLANS FOR CZOLGOSZ'S DEATH

Belief That the Electrocution Will Take Place Early Monday Morning on October 28.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Warden Meade of Auburn prison spent several hours today in conference with Superintendent of State Prisons Collins, arranging the details for carrying out the sentence of death imposed on Leon F. Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley. They went carefully over the 1,200 requests which have been received for invitations to the electrocution.

There will be but twenty-six witnesses admitted, the law limiting the number. The prison physician will be assisted in the conduct of the autopsy by Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, former president of the state commission in lunacy, and one of the greatest experts on insanity in the country.

There will also be a number of other physicians in attendance when the final mandate of the law is carried out.

Because of the small number that can be had under the statute there will be a limited number of representatives of the press present. The details for the execution have been practically completed and while the prison authorities guard with great secrecy all facts it is believed that the execution will take place before 6 o'clock on the morning of October 28, or if everything cannot be gotten ready on that day, at a similar hour on the 29th. The work of selecting the jury to sign the death warrant of the murderer has been completed, but their names are withheld from publication.

Dibble practically decided to recommend A. A. Porter, chairman of the republican committee of Columbia county, for the place.

J. C. Paige of Chicago is in the city today looking over his suburban property and fixing it up for the winter.

HIDING NEAR OMAHA

Pat Crowe, the Alleged Kidnaper, Demands $500 Bail Before He Surrenders.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22.—Pat Crowe has written another letter to Chief of Police Donohue. This latest communication from the alleged kidnaper was mailed in Omaha, and states that Crowe is secluded within twenty-five miles of this city.

The writer insists that unless he is given assurance from the court that his bond will not exceed $500 he will not give himself up. The communication is evidently written by the same man that wrote to the chief a week ago.

A brother of Pat Crowe and a sister both identified the writing as that of the man who has so long evaded the police and detective forces of the country. They profess to believe that their brother is near Omaha at this time. They also deny that they have an uncle living in Manchester, Ia., and say the only uncle they have, if he is still living, remains in Ireland.

Vienna, Oct. 22.—In the Reichstrach today the president in reply to interpolations admitted the truth of the report that at the opening session of that body all mention of the death of McKinley was intentionally omitted. The admission caused a sensation and expressions of violent condemnation resounded on all sides of the chamber.

Edgerton could not get the ball in the first half, which ended, Milton, 33; Edgerton, 0. In the second half, by excellent line plumping Edgerton advanced the ball to Milton's 25 yard line, kicking a superb goal from the stems strange a capture has not resulted.

PREPARE FOR THE NEBRASKA GAME

The Football Contest in Milwaukee on Nov. 2 Promises to Be Event of Western Season.

Nebraska will go to Milwaukee with the University of Wisconsin football team a week from next Saturday to play the "big" game which was promised by Manager Kirkpatrick of the Badgers. If the work of the Cornhuskers is any criterion of their ability they will give Wisconsin an argument which will try the skill of Phil King and the ingenuity of Captain Curtis, and the easy manner in which the Badgers disposed of the Beloit eleven will not be duplicated.

The game will be made a gala event by patrons of football in Milwaukee, and the Nebraska team will be accompanied by a delegation of 600 rooters, special rate from Lincoln having been secured.

Wisconsin is deeply interested in the coming game, and Phil King has again taken his squad behind barrel gates for practice, which began in a vigorous fashion last night. The reversal of form indicated by the Badgers in Saturday's game with Knox is believed to have been the result of possum play on the part of Wisconsin's head coach, and the followers of the Cardinal are firm in their belief that, while Nebraska is strong, Wisconsin is still better and will win by a narrow margin.

ADMITS AN ERROR IN DATE

Schley Says One Dispatch Was Received on May 22.

INSTEAD OF DAY FOLLOWING.

Three Hours Are Spent in the Cross-Examination of Lieutenant Wells—Few Witnesses on Stand—Salient Points of Day's Developments.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Lieutenant Wells, Rear Admiral Schley's Flag Lieutenant, during the Spanish war, occupied the stand nearly all day at the court of inquiry. His testimony related to the receipts of dispatches by Rear Admiral Schley from the department. Although Lieutenant Wells was under cross-examination for nearly three hours, the Judge Advocate and his associates were unable to show that Rear Admiral Schley had received definite information from the department as to the presence of the Spanish squadron in Santiago until after Rear Admiral Schley himself had ascertained this fact by seeing the Colon in the harbor and afterwards learning of the presence of the entire Spanish squadron. It was admitted by Rear Admiral Schley, through his attorney, that he did receive a copy of the "Dear Schley" letter on May 22, whereas, as the Admiral in a communication to the Senate Naval Affairs committee said this letter was not received until May 23. Rear Admiral Schley's admission was made while Mr. Hanna was conducting the cross-examination of Lieutenant Wells. Mr. Hanna exhibited to the witness a letter dated May 20, 1898, and written by Commodore Schley, which contained a reference to the dispatches that had been brought by the Dupont, and giving a general account of the operations of the flying squadron. He sought by this letter, as stated by him, to show that the No. 7 dispatch, known as the "Dear Schley" letter, was received on the 22d of May and not the 23d. The witness said: "The conjunction of this letter and the changed indorsement in lead pencil on the back of one of the dispatches would seem to indicate that the dispatch might have been received on the 22d."

Schley Admits Receipts.

After the examination had proceeded, men in McLennan County. The four men quarreled at a saloon and young Harris opened fire with a shotgun. Reynolds and Lovelace killed him almost instantly with pistols and then shot the father. Lovelace and Reynolds went to the jail and surrendered. The cause of the tragedy was a dispute over a large estate in which the four men were interested.

Girl Dead in Old Tunnel. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 22.—In a deserted tunnel in the Blue Mountains in eastern Oregon Frank Vigord, a miner, found the body of a girl crowded into an old trunk. A deep gash in the head showed the manner of death. The body had evidently been placed there two months before and was terribly decomposed. Several months ago a man and his wife drove up the lonely trail to his cabin. They asked the privilege of camping in the old tunnel mouth. He gave them food. In the morning they had gone.

President Starts on Trip.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—President Roosevelt left Washington in the afternoon for Farmington, Conn., on a special train. The President was accompanied by Commander Cowles, his brother-in-law, at whose summer residence he will stop at Farmington; Secretary Cortelyou, Dr. Rixey and Mr. Barnes, one of Mr. Cortelyou's assistants. After reaching Jersey City the train was run on to the transport Maryland and taken up the East river to Port Morris.

Caught with Dogs and Hanged. Columbus, S. C., Oct. 22.—A report comes from Hampton of the lynching of an unknown negro, who committed burglary in the residence of Dr. Peoples. The man was run down with dogs and hanged. The negro, said to be a tramp, secured some jewelry from the Peoples residence. He fired at Dr. Peoples, the bullet passing near his head. The neighborhood was aroused and dogs put on the track. The man was hanged where caught.

El Reno Prize Winner Dead. Lawton, Ok. T., Oct. 22.—James D. Wood, who drew the capital prize in the Lawton land district at the El Reno lottery last August and selected a claim valued at nearly $50,000, is dead of typhoid fever after a brief illness. Before his death all the contest against his quarter section claim adjoining the Town of Lawton had been disposed of by the interior department and his widow will come into undivided possession of the property.

Funeral Sermon Starts Now. New Orleans, La., Oct. 22.—At the burial service of the late I. B. Rogers, near Summit, Miss., one of the spectators, William O'Neill, objected to the remarks of the preacher conducting the funeral as too laudatory of the deceased, drew his revolver, and commenced to shoot. A row ensued, but O'Neill was overpowered, brought before the magistrate, fined $15 and sentenced to prison for 150 days.

Mr. Rayner turned to Admiral Schley and asked, "You admit that, don't you, Admiral?" to which the Admiral replied, "Certainly, we admit that."

Opponents Claim a Victory.

The opponents of Schley assert that his admission is a great victory for the department. It is not plain, however, as to where the victory lies, as the "Dear Schley letter" instructed the commander-in-chief of the flying squadron to convince himself that the Spanish squadron was not in Cienfuegos before leaving that port. The contention of the department on this point is that the "Dear Schley letter" was accompanied by the McCalla memorandum and was sent from Key West to Schley at Cienfuegos by the Iowa.

Describes Battle of July 3. Lieutenant Wells gave a detailed description of the battle of July 3. He said he did not remember the ranges at which the Brooklyn fired, but thought 1,100 yards was the shortest. He described the turn of the Brooklyn and the chase after the Spanish ships. When the Viscaya ran ashore the Colon was about 10,000 yards ahead of the Brooklyn and for a time firing ceased. He said that he had received orders to get a quantity of rapid-fire ammunition. Owing to the character of the coast it was expected that the Brooklyn and the Colon would come to close quarters. He was ordered to have his ammunition ready to close with Colon and give her a rapid-fire when they got close together. He then described the rest of the chase and the final surrender of the Colon. He said he had not seen the Texas when the Brooklyn made its turn. At one time during the battle, he said, the Brooklyn seemed to be alone, engaging three ships.

There were a number of witnesses early in the day before Lieutenant Wells was called.

Not Machine Kill's Boy.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—A cent given to a small boy that he might get peanuts from a slot machine brought him instant death. Another scarcely more than a baby was fatally crushed in a make-believe castle that he had built. A third child, a girl, succumbed to injuries received while walking with her mother in the woods near her home. The first child was Michael Hurley, the four-year-old son of M. F. Hurley of 3258 Wentworth avenue. In his eagerness to operate the slot machine the child toppled it over on himself and was crushed to death.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

The unwritten law that governs in every department of life's great activities, is the law of supply and demand. It controls the world of labor or with an iron hand. When the demand is active, the supply is drawn upon to the limit, and the question of wages is usually satisfactory.

When the demand is limited and industries are lagging and indifferent, the supply is glutted, and idleness and suffering result.

The same conditions are true concerning every channel of work, whether it be the labor of the hand or brain, or both combined; and they are just as true concerning capital. The only difference is in the fact that capital is an inanimate thing, helpless to employ itself and dependent upon the demands of labor in the various departments for investment.

The unusual period of prosperity that has blessed the country during the past few years, has created a heavy demand for both labor and capital, and as a result the nation, with rapid stride has come to the front as the greatest producing nation of the world. This production, stimulated by energy, and perfected by inventive genius, has driven out foreign competition, and opened up to American enterprise, many markets beyond the seas.

The republican party is denounced as hidebound and partisan, because it claims that this era of prosperity is due to a wise protective tariff that encouraged home industries, and guarded the interests of home labor. The party can't endure the odium heaped upon it, and has no occasion to apologize.

The discussion now going on with in the ranks of the party, on reciprocal trade relations is an intelligent discussion, and has to do with this same unwritten law of supply and demand. It has been discovered that the active demand, now existing for American goods may not only be stimulated, but made permanent by cultivating friendly trade relations with our customers abroad, the same policy that an individual would pursue to accomplish the same ends.

That great statesman, James G. Blaine, discovered many years ago, the possibilities of American genius and enterprise. He exhausted every effort to incorporate in the McKinley bill a reciprocity clause, and yet no one ever accused Mr. Blaine of being a free trader.

To his clear vision the position we now enjoy as a nation was an open book. He desired to protect American labor and capital, for he was intensely American, and at the same time to establish foreign markets on friendly terms so that both American labor and capital would be assured of profitable employment.

The party is just waking up to the fact that Mr. Blaine was right, and the next congress will be asked to adopt his policy, which was not free trade, but fair and equitable trade relations, in the interests of supply and demand.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN.

President Roosevelt possessed the courage and good sense to recognize in Booker T. Washington a man. Because of his great mind and warm and generous heart, and because of the interest he felt, not only in his race, but in the south, he opened his home and shared his hospitality with the colored man from Alabama.

He discovered beneath the dark skin, an active brain, a richly endowed mind, and a heart pure and clean. He discovered, as has every man who has met Mr. Washington, a gentleman courteous in bearing, refined in tastes, and in every way worthy of confidence and companionship.

To this man, whose presence would be an honor to any home, the president extended the hospitality of his home, and because of this fact he is denounced and abused by an element of southern chivalry in a manner that is disgusting to the intelligence of the nation.

Mr. Washington has behind him a constituency of a race, 7,000,000 strong. He is devoting his life to the betterment of this great army of colored people, and preparing them in practical ways to assume the responsibilities of intelligent citizenship. This work, so important that it is recognized everywhere, commands the encouragement and support of a host of philanthropic people scattered over the land, and representing almost every state in the union.

These co-workers of Mr. Washington are operating on a broader plane than politics. They feel that they are clasping hands with a man in every way their equal, and whose intelligent grasp of the situation, and devotion displayed, makes him a peer among men in self-sacrificing toil. And yet the president is criticized for possessing the common sense to show to this man the common courtesies of everyday life, and all because he happens to be living in a rented house, inferior to his own home, at the national capital.

President Roosevelt shows his good sense by ignoring this class of cheap aristocracy. The country is with him, and his critics will discover a lack of sympathy that should cause them to realize that the day has passed in this free land, when merit and ability may not be recognized, even when possessed, by a colored man.

Fiske Warren, a graduate of Harvard and a leading society man of Boston, recently went to Manila in company with Sixto Lopez, the Filipino leader who has been cultivating rebel sympathizers in this country. Mr. Warren was compelled to take the oath of allegiance before being permitted to land. His baggage contained anti-American literature. Better ship him home. Aguinaldo is a better American citizen.

The campaign in Ohio opens vigorously, with a united party, and every promise of success. Senator Hanna will remain at the head of the national committee, and the gossip about his not being in harmony with President Roosevelt, is simply an idle rumor, instigated by shallow brains, and circulated by busy tongues. Senator Hanna is loyal to the party.

Paris congratulates President Roosevelt on his independence and good sense displayed in entertaining Booker T. Washington. The French people are acquainted with Mr. Washington, and consider it an honor to be privileged to show him hospitality. The southern press has made a mistake, and will not be endorsed by popular sentiment.

The boys at Olivet college, Michigan, are working overtime after completing their lessons. The other night they caught a sheep, decorated it with bells and tin cans, and turned it loose in a third story girls' dormitory. The sheep was surprised, as well as the girls, to say nothing about the professors. The general mix-up was disastrous to the sheep, and the faculty dined on mutton broth the next day.

The Gazette is glad to be informed by President Plantz of Lawrence University, that no hazing has occurred at that institution. The report was started from a little scrimmage that occurred at a boarding house, and for which the school was in no way responsible. "Lawrence" has always enjoyed an enviable reputation, and is entitled to well merited success.

The Northwestern University will doubtless put their clock on a pedestal nearer the ground. The boys climbed the tower, 115 feet high, the other night, and removed the hands from the old timepiece. This is better than hazing, but embarrassing for the clock.

Saturday was a record breaker for football tragedies. One professor was killed and half a dozen players seriously injured. Bull fights are not in it for excitement or results, but the game goes merrily on as an important feature of every college curriculum.

The people of Wisconsin will be glad to know that Governor La Follette has so far regained his health as to again assume active work. The impression has generally prevailed that the state has been without a governor for the past few months, and more or less criticism has resulted.

The white girl of Waukegan, who recently eloped with a colored man, has left her spouse in Chicago, and gone east to raise the wind. If she forgets to come back, it will be another case of misplaced confidence. The first wife appears to have the best of the bargain.

A Portland, Maine, contractor, was obliged to ship two carloads of brick from St. Louis the other day, by express. The charges were $2,000. They must look like gold brick with a silver lining, to this contractor.

The strenuous life of President Roosevelt took a breathing spell when he dined with Booker T. Washington, while this act of gentlemanly courtesy furnished active employment to southern chivalry, and codfish aristocracy critics. The president and his guest will survive the shock and the world will jog along with old time regularity.

The hunting season will soon be over. The private secretary should rest from his arduous duties, mount a Kentucky thoroughbred and chase a cotton tail through the woods for a couple of weeks. "All work and no play" had a bad effect on Jack, and it is bad policy on general principles.

Mark Twain is taking an active part in Tammany politics. He will find plenty of material for his next story, which will doubtless bear the title of "Innocents at Home." Tammany has a menagerie that rivals the "Rockies."

Chauncey M. Depew is no longer talking for publication. His time is fully occupied in digesting curtain lectures.

Every man who owns a cow should cultivate a crop of whiskers. Some scientist has discovered that no man with whiskers should milk. Another argument in favor of woman's rights.

PRESS COMMENT.

Evening Wisconsin: The teachers' meeting at Oshkosh which adopted a resolution recommending that through be spelled "thru," and though "tho," and pedagogue "pedagog," is evidently composed of the class of people who would rather pose as reformers than take the trouble of learning to spell.

Madison Democrat: That Missouri woman who lived to 110 after using liquor and tobacco all her days is no object lesson at all. She simply overdid the matter.

Milwaukee Journal: An English physician declares that people bathe too frequently and wash out the natural oil that keeps the skin in condition. There is some evidence that there are exceptions to this rule.

Exchange: Reciprocity is the doctrine of fair exchanges in trade, and its very fairness is differentiated from the democratic free trade idea.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: If Pat Crowe had only learned about the Hennepin county election law, what a lot of trouble he could have saved Mr. Cudahy, himself and the rest of Omaha.

Madison State Journal: A reciprocity congress is being promoted by the national association of manufacturers. Several hundred of the larger manufacturing concerns in the country have been sounded and the sentiment seems to be general that reciprocity would largely aid the export trade of America.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The Chicago Chronicle refers to the editor of The Janesville Gazette as a "misfit" editor because as a republican he argues that the building of an American merchant navy will take care of itself without the aid of any subsidy. Now, that is kind of discouraging to a man who is willing to express his honest opinions.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Madison State Journal says that the veto of the dog tax bill by Governor La Follette, has made him more friends in the rural districts of Wisconsin than any measure in which he has taken issue since he was elected governor. As the issue was not a political one it is possible that La Follette heard the dog bark.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

True economy is not saving money or labor, but using it to bring the greatest returns.

After many observations it seems that the craft in statecraft should be spelled with a g.

Idleness rusts; friction wears; use develops.

A bright smile does not make a life, but it makes life bearable.

And it is well to remember that your fellow man is also alive.

Milwaukee Journal.

ABLE TO STAND ALONE.

The press needs no apologies. It is the greatest instrument for the accomplishment of good known to modern life. Though it is seen the whole world, it brings all nations into a close kinship. It fights for right; it champions the cause of the oppressed. Without its aid, charitable enterprises would be deprived of their greatest ally. It is the newspaper that commands attention and be-speaks interest. In every philanthropic movement where the voice of the reformer, unaided by the reporter, reaches a hundred persons, the words of the press challenge notice from tens of thousands. No earnest philanthropist can afford to disdain the herald of the press or to deny its power for good.

Milwaukee Sentinel.

WELL DEFINED REASONS.

With its former editor luxuriating in a lucrative federal job at Washington, and its present editor reaping the rich fruits of a fat official newspaper contract with the state, it ill becomes the State Journal to ascribe to the country press a mercenary motive in exploiting the stalwart cause. Five-sixths of the country weeklies in Wisconsin are in sympathy with the Republican League, because they believe its principles and precepts are right. They believe in expurgating populism and its attendant heresies from the republican party forever; and they believe that an alliance with the so-called stalwart movement is the way to do it. And we have yet to hear of one rural editor taking this stand because of a fee, either promised or implied, or the hope of reward. If the State Journal knows of one let it name him.

Compare this manly stand of the country press with the servile attitude of the State Journal—a newspaper bellowing itself hoarse for "Spooner and La Follette" and laughing in its sleeve the while—because, no matter which faction wins, its feeding place in the patronage trough is secure.

WHAT OPTICIAN MEANS.

One Should Know the Manufacture of Lenses and Frames

There is no denying the fact that the majority of people who suffer with their eyes fail to fully realize the meaning of the word optician. A man who merely examines the eyes and fits you to glasses is far from being termed an optician. One who has had experience in the manufacture of lenses, bows and frames direct from a manufacturer's standpoint is in the true sense of the word entitled to the honor of being termed an optician. W. F. Hayes, the eye specialist with F. C. Cook & Co., is entitled to full credit in this line of work. Mr. Hayes has not only devoted years of time but has served full time at the bench in two of the largest and most modern lens and frame manufacturing plants in this country. Such factories are located in Chicago and Milwaukee and it is here that lenses are ground from rough glass into all sizes and shapes. Mr. Hayes received here valuable experience in no other way obtainable. Competent workmen, who have devoted their lives to the business, were his teachers and they left nothing undone in the Janesville man's behalf. Gold, silver and aluminum frames are also a special feature with the lens manufacturer and in this department Mr. Hayes proved himself most competent.

RECEPTION GIVEN TO REV. W. A. HALL

Retiring Minister of the Court Street M. E. Church Honored by His Many Friends.

There was a pleasant gathering in the parlor of the Court Street M. E. church last evening, although the occasion was not a joyous one. Members and friends of the church assembled together in an informal way to give the Rev. W. A. Hall and family a farewell reception and to assure them that in leaving Janesville they take with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

While the feeling of sadness was necessarily predominant the memories of the reception will be cherished by all who were present because of the relation which has existed for four years between Rev. Hall and his people and the ties of sympathy which have bound them together.

Last evening's reception was a very informal affair being arranged for in a hurry as it was thought that Rev. Hall and his family would leave for their new home today. Notwithstanding the fact that there was little time for preparations loving hands decorated the church parlor beautifully for the occasion and a very enjoyable program was given. Exquisite vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. Fannie L. Clark and Miss Belle Angel and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Brief addresses were made by Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. J. T. Henderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, both gentlemen speaking eloquently of the good work which Rev. Hall has done in this city and of the pleasant personal relations which have existed between him and the other pastors. Both speakers eulogized Rev. Hall very highly and he made an appreciative and very happy response to which his audience listened earnestly.

While Rev. Hall looks forward with pleasant anticipation to a larger field of labor, he naturally regrets keenly severing the tender ties of friendship and affection which bind him to the people of his church and his personal friends here. Something of this feeling was manifested in his farewell remarks last evening.

Before the conclusion of the program Rev. Henderson, in behalf of the people of Court Street church presented Rev. and Mrs. Hall with a handsome china dinner set which will be a daily reminder to them of their friends in Janesville. Rev. Hall was visibly overcome with emotion at this token of remembrance but he spoke his sincere thanks.

After the delightful program was concluded, the balance of the evening was devoted to sociability and the enjoyment of light refreshments. People lingered long as though the opportunity to bring to a close this last social meeting between pastor and people and it was quite late when final goodnights were said.

The church in which Rev. Hall goes is the leading church in Stevens Point and is progressive in every department of its work. The normal work is a strong factor as one of the state normal schools is located there. Rev. Hall has had experience in this line of work during his pastorate at Whitewater and enjoys it. He is also anticipating pleasure from the fact that he will be again in close touch with Rev. Frank A. Pease, formerly presiding elder of this district, but now pastor of the Wausau church.

Rev. Hall will not be able to move his family to Stevens Point until Thursday or Friday. While their friends here regret their departure most sincerely they rejoice that Rev. Hall's promotion will give him larger opportunities for better work.

At Times... A Good Cigar Helps One During Business Trials.

There is no denying the fact that at times a good cigar has helped to put through many a ticklish business deal. A good cigar will put any smoker in a good humor but it must be a good cigar at a reasonable price. Such cigars are sold only by Grubb, Al, the popular 5-cent brands known to the trade are here sold at 7 for 25 cents. Not popular makes are excluded. At Grubb's the smoker also secures the world famous goods at 4 for 25c.

The entertainment committee of the Y. M. C. A. regret that only a limited number of seats can be sold this year. All patrons of the Y. M. C. A. entertainments are urged to secure season tickets at once.

L. C. Whitfield of Edgerton was in the city today to attend the theater.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The present dramatic season will nowhere witness a more magnificent production than the one which was seen at the Myers Grand last evening when Otto Skinner and his admirable company presented before a magnificent audience "Francesca da Rimini," that old Italian story of love and hate, unselfish nobility and revengeful malice, in fact all of the controlling passions of humanity.

"Francesca da Rimini" is in six acts, each of symmetrical proportion and each rounded with dramatic picture. In fact I Paolo, the handsome brother of the deformed Lanciotto, goes from Rimini to Ravenna to obtain Francesca as his brother's bride. In act II Paolo and Francesca meet and love, and old Guido da Polenta, the father of the princess, craftily deceives her as to what manner of man her proposed husband is. In act III Lanciotto and Francesca meet, and she, overcoming her repugnance and in order to save her beloved Ravenna from the Gualphs, agrees to become the hunchback's wife.

Lanciotto and Francesca are married in act IV, but the wife cannot hide her aversion, and the husband, after a turbulent outburst of jealousy, rushes away from the altar to suppress, in battle, a sudden revolt of the enemies of Rimini. In act V Paolo and Francesca are betrayed to Lanciotto by the Jester, Pepe, who begs his wife and brother to vindicate themselves, but becoming assured of their sin and treachery he slays them both and afterward kills himself.

The telling points of the tragedy succeed each other, in an ascending scale. At first the tone is quiet. The first break is at the end of the third act, when the princess falsely but fervently declares that she loves the hunchback, and the deluded, trusting, miserable man rejoices. The next is in the cathedral scene, when Lanciotto leaves his deceitful wife and brother and welcomes the chance of battle. The sinister climax of the betrayal and then the murder of Pepe are made weird by the surroundings of loneliness and night.

Mr. Skinner's revival of Baker's poetic tragedy has not only given the public a magnificent scenic production and a revelation of artistic acting but it is the greatest thing he has ever done even in his series of successful character interpretations and has placed him in a position where he can no longer be catalogued with the rank and file of clever actors but must be counted among the few great leaders of the stage.

The part of the brave, noble, tender-hearted hunchback gives Mr. Skinner by far the best opportunity he has ever had and while many people regretted that the part taken was not one in which his personal grace and beauty could delight the eye, this regret was soon swallowed up in admiration for the greatness of his acting. The full, melodious voice, with its richness of expression and feeling, and the great soul-reaching eyes seemed endued with fresh power to thrill the hearts of the people, and whether in his sadness over his own deformity, his passionate love making, his tender love for his brother, his just anger at the court fool or the mournful grandeur of the last act when he tries his best to avoid being the instrument of justice and to taunt his brother into killing him, he held his audience breathless and intense and won the deepest sympathies of the people for Lanciotto. Mr. Skinner proved himself equal to all the subtle changes of the part and every shading of feeling was artistically portrayed. He deserves the eminent position he has won in his chosen art and in the hearts of an admiring people.

His support is worthy of the central star. Next to that of Lanciotto, the part of Pepe, the spiteful, mischievous court fool, is the strongest character in the play. It is a difficult part and calls for much hard as well as enthusiastic work but it has brought fame to William Norris for his remarkable interpretation of the fool is one of the best things that has ever been seen on the stage. Next to Mr. Skinner, he carries off the honors of the production and he received an enthusiastic curtain call last evening.

Marcia Van Dresser carries ably the part of Francesca and was especially clever in the impetuous conflict of her emotions when she discovers that the man with whom she is in love is not her future husband, but his brother, Paolo. This dashing, handsome count is well portrayed by Andrew Boucault, who is an actor of fire and talent and is especially in strong dramatic scenes. The other parts are all in keeping with the principals, the minor parts being taken by actors of well known ability.

The production, with its magnificent stage settings and the personnel of the company, was exactly the same as seen in Chicago. The company is a large one including about thirty-five members and Janesville has been privileged to see a production which the best dramatic critics have pronounced to be one of superior artistic value, a masterpiece of the stage.

Preceded by heraldry of triumph with promises of the most elaborate production in the legitimate field of drama, the coming of the eminent tragedian, Mr. Robert B. Mantell, under the management of Mr. M. W. Hanley, is being impatiently awaited by all true lovers of art.

Mr. Mantell will be seen at the Myers Grand with what is reputed to be the most carefully selected company on the stage in the romantic tragedy of "Othello."

Mr. Mantell is logically conceded to be one of, if not the greatest actors in the legitimate field of tragedy, established as such it is only fitting that he should be presented to the public in a manner worthy of the high position he holds.

If reports are true his productions are elaborate and costly and well deserve the praise bestowed by critics along the route so far this season.

PLAIN TALK.

To Catarrh Sufferers.

Every person suffering from catarrh in its many forms knows that the common lotions, salves and poultices do not cure. It is needless to argue that point or to cite cases of failure, because every victim of catarrhal trouble knows it for himself if he has tried them.

A local application, if it does anything at all, simply gives temporary relief; a wash, lotion, salve or poultice cannot reach the seat of the disease which is in the blood.

The mucous membrane seeks to relieve the blood of catarrhal poison by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, descending to the throat and larynx, causing an irritating cough; continual clearing of the throat, deafness, indigestion and many other disagreeable and persistent symptoms.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal treatment; a remedy which will gradually cleanse the system from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion always present in the mucous membrane. The best remedies for this purpose are Eucalyptol, Sanguinalia and Hydrostyrax, but the difficulty has always been to get these valuable cures combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

Recently this has been accomplished and the preparation put on the market under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; they are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, so that they may be slowly dissolved in the mouth thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane and finally the stomach and intestines.

An advantage to be considered also is that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, morphine or poison, no narcotics, so often found in catarrhal powders, and the use of which often entails a habit more dangerous than the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cts. for full sized package and are probably the safest and most effectual catarrh cure on the market.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. It is woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy Mother's Friend was used, and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

Came Near Dying.
"For three days and nights I suffered agony until from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," said M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by King's Pharmacy and People's Drug Co."

DESPERATE CROOKS AT WORK.

Band Makes Tour of Ohio, Stealing Several Thousand Dollars' Worth of Plunder—Numerous Cases Reported, but No Clue to the Criminals.

Lancaster, O., Oct. 22.—Safe-blowers made a tour of this section of Ohio at night, blowing several safes, robbing a postoffice and a hardware store, and stealing several horses and buggies. They secured nearly $1,000 in money as a result of the night's work. They began operations at Pleasantville, where Rose Bros.' hardware store was looted of cutlery and revolvers. Stealing a horse and buggy they proceeded to Junction City, where the postoffice safe was blown and $400 in stamps and quite a lot of currency secured. At McElroy the Baltimore and Ohio safe was blown and several hundred dollars and valuable papers secured. The trail was lost at Rushville, this county. Horses were changed several times by the marauders.

Duquesne Postoffice Robbed.
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—By boring two-holes in the safe and then blowing it open postoffice robbers secured over $2,000 worth of stamps and $500 in cash at Duquesne Borough, above Homestead, on the Monongahela River, at night. The postoffice is situated in the First National Bank Building in Grant avenue. A light was burning brightly all night in the office, the safe being plainly visible from the front door.

Throw Away Stolen Securities.
Freeport, Ill., Oct. 22.—A couple of thieves walked up Stephenson street with about a quarter of a million dollars in securities. They had stolen them from a safe in the residence of Daniel C. Stover during the absence of the family. The securities were in stock certificates of the German Insurance Company, the State Bank of this city, the various manufacturing companies of which Mr. Stover is the head, and bonds and mortgages, all gilt-edged. Failing to realize the value of the papers or else fearing detection, the thieves threw them under a bush on the lawn of Mrs. O. B. Sanford, some distance farther up the street, where they were found by the gardener and returned. They made two large armfuls.

Farmers' Bank Cracked.
Fulda, Minn., Oct. 22.—The safe of the Farmers' Bank was blown open and robbed. Loss, $5,500; insured.

Wisconsin Also Visited.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 22.—The bank at Dane Station, near here, was robbed by a trio of safe crackers, who took money and notes in the vault. No trace of them has been found.

Turn Switch for Fast Freight.
Sterling, Ill., Oct. 22.—Unknown men, supposed to be freight thieves, set a switch on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in the local yards so as to ditch a fast freight train. The rails were blocked with stones and a green lantern so placed as to indicate a clear track. The weight and speed of the engine carried it over the switch and on to the main track again.

New Cabinet for Ecuador.
Guayaquil, Ecuador, Oct. 22.—In the new cabinet Senor Jose Luis Tamayo is minister of interior; Dr. Cesar Borja, minister of foreign affairs; Senor Ramon Mejia, minister of finance; and Gen. Flavio Alfaro, minister of war.

Duke of Hamilton to Wed.
London, Oct. 22.—The announcement of the engagement of the duke of Hamilton and Brandon to Nina Poore, one of England's beauties, has caused widespread interest.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made By Many Janeville Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A Janeville resident tells you how the can be done:

Mrs. S. L. Bearden, of 64 S. River St. says: "During two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrible dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work, and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected, causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headaches, which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any too much confidence in them, but my daughter got a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store and persuaded me to use them. They took right hold and made a wonderful change in my condition. I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions.

The ZIEGLER MAKE

You know, there is half a century of fine clothes-making experience behind our guarantee, there is a grim determination that nothing that is not worthy shall enter the make-up of clothes that bear our label. There is an unwritten but binding contract-existing between the makers and the thousands of men that wear our clothes that their product shall always typify highest standard of high-class tailoring. Therefore, how wasteful of his money is he who either pays two prices and has his clothes made-to-measure, and he who pays the same price for clothes ready-to-wear that he is told by the clothiers are "just as good" as Ziegler's; THEY ARE NOT, and if you'll ever wear a Ziegler Suit, or Overcoat, you'll know that there are no ready-to-wear clothes made that are the equal, and no made-to-measure garments that are their superiors.
